Non-slip safety floors

Slipnomor. For resilient floors.

A place with an extremely high number of people coming and going, as well as special requirements: the maximum safety of a non-slip surface is as important as the hard-wearing robustness of the floor. The majority of accidents statistically recorded involve slipping and falling – causing enormous damage to people and the economy.

High non-slip safety can only be achieved with costly safety floor coverings? Its time to change the way you think!

The solution: Slipnomor

- guarantees non-slip safety in accordance with assessment group R10, the British Standard 7976-2; and American ASTM. even in standing water
- increases durability
due to extremely high protection against friction wear and scratching
- extends the floor's lifetime because there's no need to strip and no direct wear and tear of the surface
- saves costs
because cleaning involves considerably less effort than with conventional safety floorings
- looks new longer
because repeated dirt accumulation is substantially reduced
- enables any surface to become a safety floor, unlimited design and lay-out in contrast to traditional safety floorings
